

EARLI's JURE RESEARCH DEVELOPMENT FUND

EARLI is delighted to announce its research development scheme for JURE members. The scheme is intended to provide successful applicants with funding to cover activities and items needed to develop research opportunities amongst JURE members. We hope that these contributions will provide additional support to JURE research, boost the quality of the research as well as further develop research culture broadly within EARLI. We would strongly welcome collaborative projects amongst JURE members or activities that would showcase EARLI to new potential members.

You may apply for a bursary to fund any of the following items and activities:

- Training
- Books
- Data collection costs (e.g., travel, but not data collection equipment)
- Costs related to student-led events that aim to strengthen and promote research culture (e.g., refreshments for a writing group, room rent for a knowledge exchange event, etc.)

Items not covered by this scheme:

- Tuition fees
- Maintenance costs
- Laptops for general study use
- Research assistant costs
